Enjoy our new Green Goddess arrangement

Most of our arrangements focus on the bright and unique array of colors that make tropical flowers so very special. This year we thought we'd expand our repertoire and focus on all the glorious shades of green our fields offer.

Green Ice (Calathea cylindrica) is the focus of the new Green Goddess arrangement. This flower is lime green with little yellow flowers, flourishes best in shade, and is native to Brazil. A farm favorite, these amazing flowers always thrive after a rainfall.

Hana Tropicals Loves Being GREEN

Here at Hana Tropicals, we take pride in being deeply conscious of our business methods and the packaging we utilize. We strive to be a compassionate and consistent business that you will be proud to support.

1. We exclusively use recycled newspaper shred to wrap each individual fragile flower. We buy this shred from a local non-profit that provides jobs for those who would otherwise have no means of support.
2. Our boxes are 100% compostable, as is the tissue paper we use to gift wrap the flowers.
3. We support and use FedEx to deliver our flowers. FedEx greatly cares about their impact on the environment, and has incredible goals they are working hard to achieve, making it an even more impressive company.

We love celebrating flowers through our work. We know that our customers are using Hana's beautiful tropical flowers to express their thanks, love or compassion, which is the most incredible way to express gratitude for this Earth. We thank you for being on this journey with us.

Passion Rutledge Cheek

Passion came to us in September of 2017 from Maryland. She studied Psychology at Temple University, and loves managing customer service and tours for Hana Tropicals. We don't know what we'd do without her!

Passion's favorite tropical flowers are Indonesian Wax Gingers and Kimi Gingers. Her favorite past time in Hana is stargazing at Hamoa beach.

Help us fight the stigma!

A common misconception is that flowers are exclusively for women. This could not be more WRONG. Hana Tropicals welcomes dozens of tours daily and the men are just as enamored with our flower selection and tropical fields as the women.

Help us fight the norm and send flowers to your favorite guy today. We promise, anyone can appreciate a hand-picked gorgeous array of colorful tropical flowers sent with love from YOU!
